DETAILED ACTION

The indicated allowability of claims 9-14 and 18-20 is withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference(s) to Cullen et al and Okamoto et al. Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow.

Oath/Declaration

The oath or declaration is defective. A new oath or declaration in compliance with 37 CFR 1.67(a) identifying this application by application number and filing date is required. See MPEP §§ 602.01 and 602.02.

The oath or declaration is defective because:
It does not state that the person making the oath or declaration acknowledges the duty to disclose to the Office all information known to the person to be material to patentability as defined in 37 CFR 1.56.

Claim Objections

Claim 21 is objected to because of the following informalities: The status identifier should read "previously presented". Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 22, 23 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Welch. Welch discloses turning off fuel injection to one group of cylinders and adjusting the valve timing of those cylinders so they act as air expanders. The valve timing of the remaining active cylinders is unchanged.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cullen et al (5,843,941). Cullen et al discloses a variable displacement engine wherein the active, or first set, of cylinders receive a lean mixture. When the active set of cylinders changes to control engine temperature levels, the newly active, or second set, of cylinders is transitioned to lean mixture operation.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 9-14 and 18-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Okamoto et al. Okamoto et al discloses a variable displacement engine having the number of active cylinders changed to meet desired torque demand. Since the engine is of lean burn type, when an inactive cylinder set or group is activated, the set will transition from air only to lean mixture operation.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29

Art Unit: 3747

USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim 24 is rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 18 and 19 of U.S. Patent No. 7,249,583 (S. N. 11/125,889). Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the method of controlling an engine of claims 18 and 19 would include the engine and controller of the instant system claim.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 15-17 and 21 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 22-24 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

The variable displacement engines made of record and not relied upon are considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
